Dedication

We in the class of 1942 are ever thinking of you in the armed forces with a prayer in our hearts for your ultimate success and safe return.

The beautiful and just cause for which you fight
and the peace you are entrusted to win will secure the future for ourselves and our posterity. It is to you, then, we dedicate this book, which embodies the solemn trust we place in you—our hope for America's future.

THE CABINET

Mr. James Boice, President; Mr. Percy Christie, Mr. Joseph Adkins; Mr. Leslie Zackey, Vice-President; Mr. Walter R. Douthett, Superintendent; Mr. Fred Mac Dougall, Treasurer; Mr. Harold Pugh, Secretary; Dr. Ettore Liberace, Mr. Louis Smith.

To the Class of 1942:

The members of the Darby Borough School Board extend congratulations and good wishes to each and everyone of you upon attaining the necessary qualifications required for your graduation.

The work has not always been easy, nor the tasks pleasant, but your learning has helped prepare you for living as an upright citizen according to our American way of life.

A good slogan to remember is the one told of an immigrant upon arriving in New York. She was asked what she thought of our American Flag. She answered that it resembled a stick of candy. Whereupon she was told, "Yes, it does look like a stick of candy, but it has not been licked yet." So let us all determine that it shall never be licked.

JAMES M. BOICE,
President

Look not mournfully into the Past; it comes not back again.

Wisely improve the Present; it is thine.

Go forth to meet the shadowy Future without fear and with a manly heart.

Longfellow

J. WALLACE SANER, Principal

To the Class of 1942:

You, the twenty-eighth Darby class for which I have written, are the first to go out into our Nation at war. You have dedicated this book to the many gallant members of classes occupying your classrooms before you, who are now serving in the armed forces, some, perhaps, to die, defending from outside aggressors the liberties you enjoy.

On you, with your high idealism, fresh from your studies of world affairs, falls the burden of defending the home front against those among us who would cause these boys to die unnecessarily or in vain. The foes you must fight are those who would weaken our united effort behind these boys by causing us to fight among ourselves. These foes are those who create disunity by condemning a whole group, class, race or religion for the sins of a few members; those who with destructive criticism and rumor mongering would weaken rather than strengthen the Government, which, under our American system, our boys must serve; and those who through disloyalty, apathy, ignorance or just plain laziness would give less than their best in energy and self-denial, to provide the food, material, and equipment which our boys must have to win and come back alive.

Sincerely,

WALTER R. DOUTHETT
Superintendent

OFFICERS OF THE DAY

MISS FRANCES LABEL.

We, in the class of 1942, have owed you our thanks so many times, that we now find it too difficult a task to express them all in one small paragraph.

We thank you for your proficiency in managing the financial aspects of our class plays, the candy concession, and all our other class activities.

We thank you for your tireless assistance to the members of the Yearbook staff. Every section of the book has felt the inspiration of your guidance.

For all of this, and for much else that we have not enumerated here, we in our deep gratitude thank you, and assure you that we shall always remember you as one of our best friends.

MR. FRANK MALANDRA

Patient, tireless, ever ready to help, you have never failed to be the adviser every class longs to have.

Your direction of both our class plays helped make them a memory we long will keep intact in our minds.

For the three years we have been together as a class you have not only been our class adviser but our loyal friend.

Mrs. Harry Stevenson

Mrs. James Boice

Mrs. Raymond F. Jantzen

Our country's call for defense on the home front found the Home and School Association well organized to undertake its new responsibilities. Financial support from the Association accounted for the distribution of yarn to our mothers who used this in the knitting of garments for the Red Cross.

Other normal activities, however, were not interrupted. The most important of these included aid to the Salvation Army, United Charities, Red Cross, and the raising of funds to give to the various activities of the school, such as the continued support to the Dental Clinic. There has always remained, of course, the basic purpose—a growing relationship between the teachers and parents of the students.

The officers of 1941-42 are Mrs. H. Stevenson, President; Mrs. J. Boice, Vice-President; Mrs. R. Jantzen, Secretary; and Mrs. M. Cox, Treasurer.

Dear Ray,

Attention Raymond Davis

You've been away from us a year now, "somewhere" in those oceans which have always meant so much to you - and which have now taken on a new meaning to all of us right here in Dorby. Your classmates are keenly aware of your services to your country. In fact, ever since December 7, we've been on the verge of chucking our books overboard and joining you, but we're seeing it through with the hope that our staying in school will better prepare us for the job ahead. Well, here we are, every one of us -- yes, even the girls want to do something. Let the Admiral have a look at us -- our qualifications, activities, everything.

And there are more coming up from the ranks of the Junior and Sophomore classes. Frankly, Ray, judging from their past performances, they're pretty good. Ray, we'll be thinking of you on Graduation Day.

Sincerely yours,
Class of 1942.

YOUTH'S ANSWER

Hearts are quiet now, yet the meadow lark of nature sings,
Remembering a day long past,
When o'er its brilliant coat settled
The laughter of ever-lasting Spring.

It remembers now so vividly,
The day that children came,
Taking possession of his sylvan home,
With youth's eternal game.

With laughter reaching up to heaven,
And eyes, blue as the sky they danced under,
Childish voices, piping, high pitched,
Drowning the sounds of the war thunder.

Then suddenly louder and louder they sounded,
Faster and faster they came,
Thundering, yawning, gaping war machines,
Taking the young from this woodland plain.

But dare these men think who send out this destruction,
That these children shall long be content with their fate?
They'll fight with the weapons of right and God's justice,
Unshackling the chains of dictatorship's hate.

—MILDRED GOLDSTEIN

CLASS HISTORY

Sun up! The dawn of a new day for the class of '42. September, 1939. Youthful Sophomores, bubbling over with enthusiasm, keeping it under check until — April 23, then pop — we elected a nominating committee — one representative from each section. Jane Jantzen, Lujeanne Bush, Clement Hunt, Betty Carr, and Harold Plummer soon met with Mr. Saner and then presented to the class a first-rate list of candidates. The results of this election made: Daniel Shockley, Pres.; James Boice, Vice Pres.; Gertrude Ruppert, Sec'y.; Jane Jantzen, Treas.; and George Burns, Historian. Miss Frances Label and Mr. Frank Malandra accepted the class adviserships.

After all this excitement, our big disappointment came when we found we could have no Sophomore Hop. We did, however, support the Alumni production "What a Life" and earned our first class money, 4.55. June came and with it Move-Up Day. We were Juniors!

After all this excitement, our big disappointment came when we found we could have no Sophomore Hop. We did, however, support the Alumni production "What a Life" and earned our first class money, $4.55. June came and with it Move-Up Day. We were Juniors!

Our second year in Senior High opened with the unanimous re-election of our Sophomore officers. Things started rolling when we made our big venture into the social world — our first dance, on October 18. At this dance we presented Miss Label with a corsage and Mr. Malandra with a carnation. What a thrill that was!

After this we laid frivolity away for awhile. The girls set to work on the candy stand, while the boys pitched in at the football games, feeding hot dogs to the ravenous crowds. Immediately after the close of the basketball season, the gym floor was again turned over to us for our second dance. We followed this with another dance on April 16.

At last the big date arrived! May 16 — the Junior Prom. Ed Hamp's music, Brookline's dance floor — and we were set for the biggest social event of our high school career. Dame Nature arranged a beautiful moonlit night, and oh! how we danced!

In March, production was started on our Junior play — "Young April." Then started a series of day and night rehearsals, Mr. Malandra's patient voice, "Take it again, please," make-up man, properties, costumes, dress rehearsal — lights, curtain, action — it's May 27 and 28! Our finished product at last appeared on the high school stage, winding up the events of our Junior year.

Watch out, underclassmen, here we come! The big "shots" of the school. Gosh, we felt great. Elections were held for Senior class officers, with the re-election of four of the same officers. George Horn became our Senior Historian.

Newshawks skooting around corners, flash-bulbs glaring, dummy taking shape, "pose pretty please," senior pictures taken, staff officers elected — gradually our yearbook began to take shape.

Our big production of the year, on November 6 and 7, "The Family Upstairs," was considered by many of the "first nighters" as one of the best productions given by any class in the past few years.

Drag out the wax, Pop Rinier, another dance is coming up. November 21, we issued in the Thanksgiving spirit with our last Senior dance.

It's Spring again, and every Senior feels a nostalgic pang as he watches the Juniors prepare for their Prom. Excitement fills the air as the girls discuss "that adorable gown," and the boys worry about the condition of their dad's tires, and how much money they don't have. Once again on May 14, we cast aside our "Sloppy Joe's" for the garb of the socialites. As the last strains of music drifted past our ears, we felt a tinge of regret that this would be our last social affair as members of Darby High.

At last the final bell tolled for us. It was Baccalaureate, solemn and impressive as usual. And then — Commencement. Our final farewells were taken as we stepped from the platform on June 6, graduates of Darby High School.

Thus one phase of our life is over, but the world which we have been prepared to meet stretches out before us.

JUNIOR PLAY

Under the excellent direction of Mr. Frank Malandra, we presented "Young April," a three act comedy of youth. The play concerns the problems of George McIntyre, a college freshman, and his seventeen year old sister, Terry McIntyre. Throughout the play, the mother and father show their sympathetic understanding of their children's problems.

SENIOR PLAY

SENIOR PLAY

"The Family Upstairs," in three acts, presents the struggles, pathos, and humor of the average middle-class family.

Through the earnest effort and complete understanding of their roles, the cast of this production was able to add the touch of human interest to their parts, which is always welcome in any play.

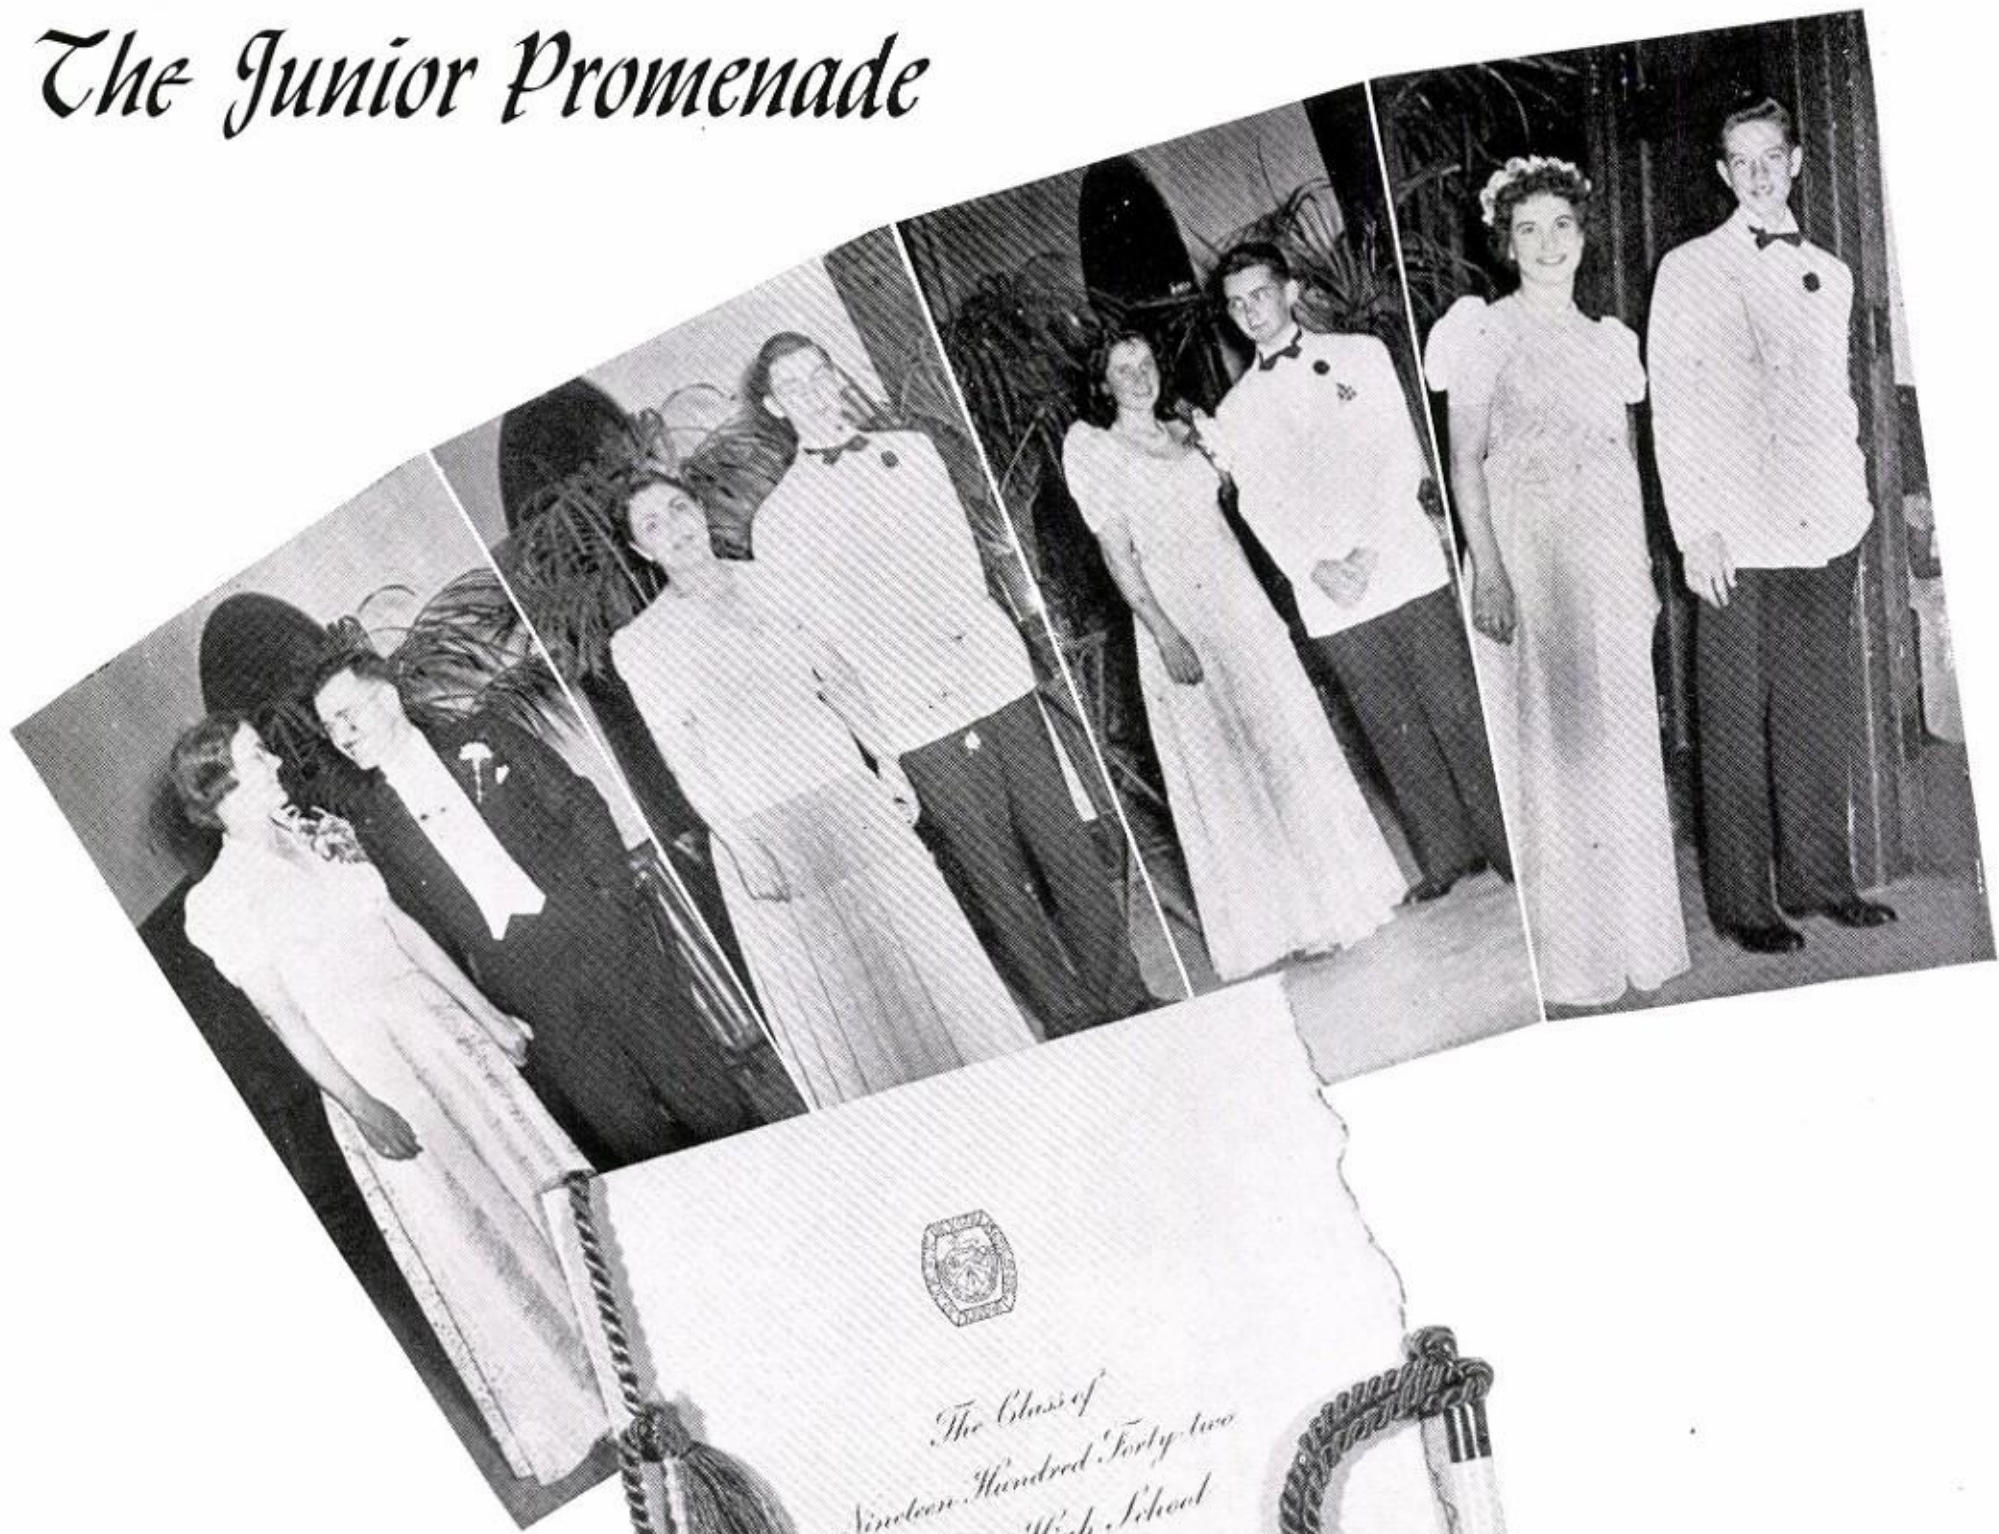

The cast:

Joe Heller, the father	John Haas
Emma Heller, the mother	Gloria Schuster
Louise Heller, the elder sister	Jane Jantzen

SERVICE GROUPS

Special recognition should be given to the 12 Secretarial and 12 Bookkeeping classes for their specific contribution to faculty and student projects.

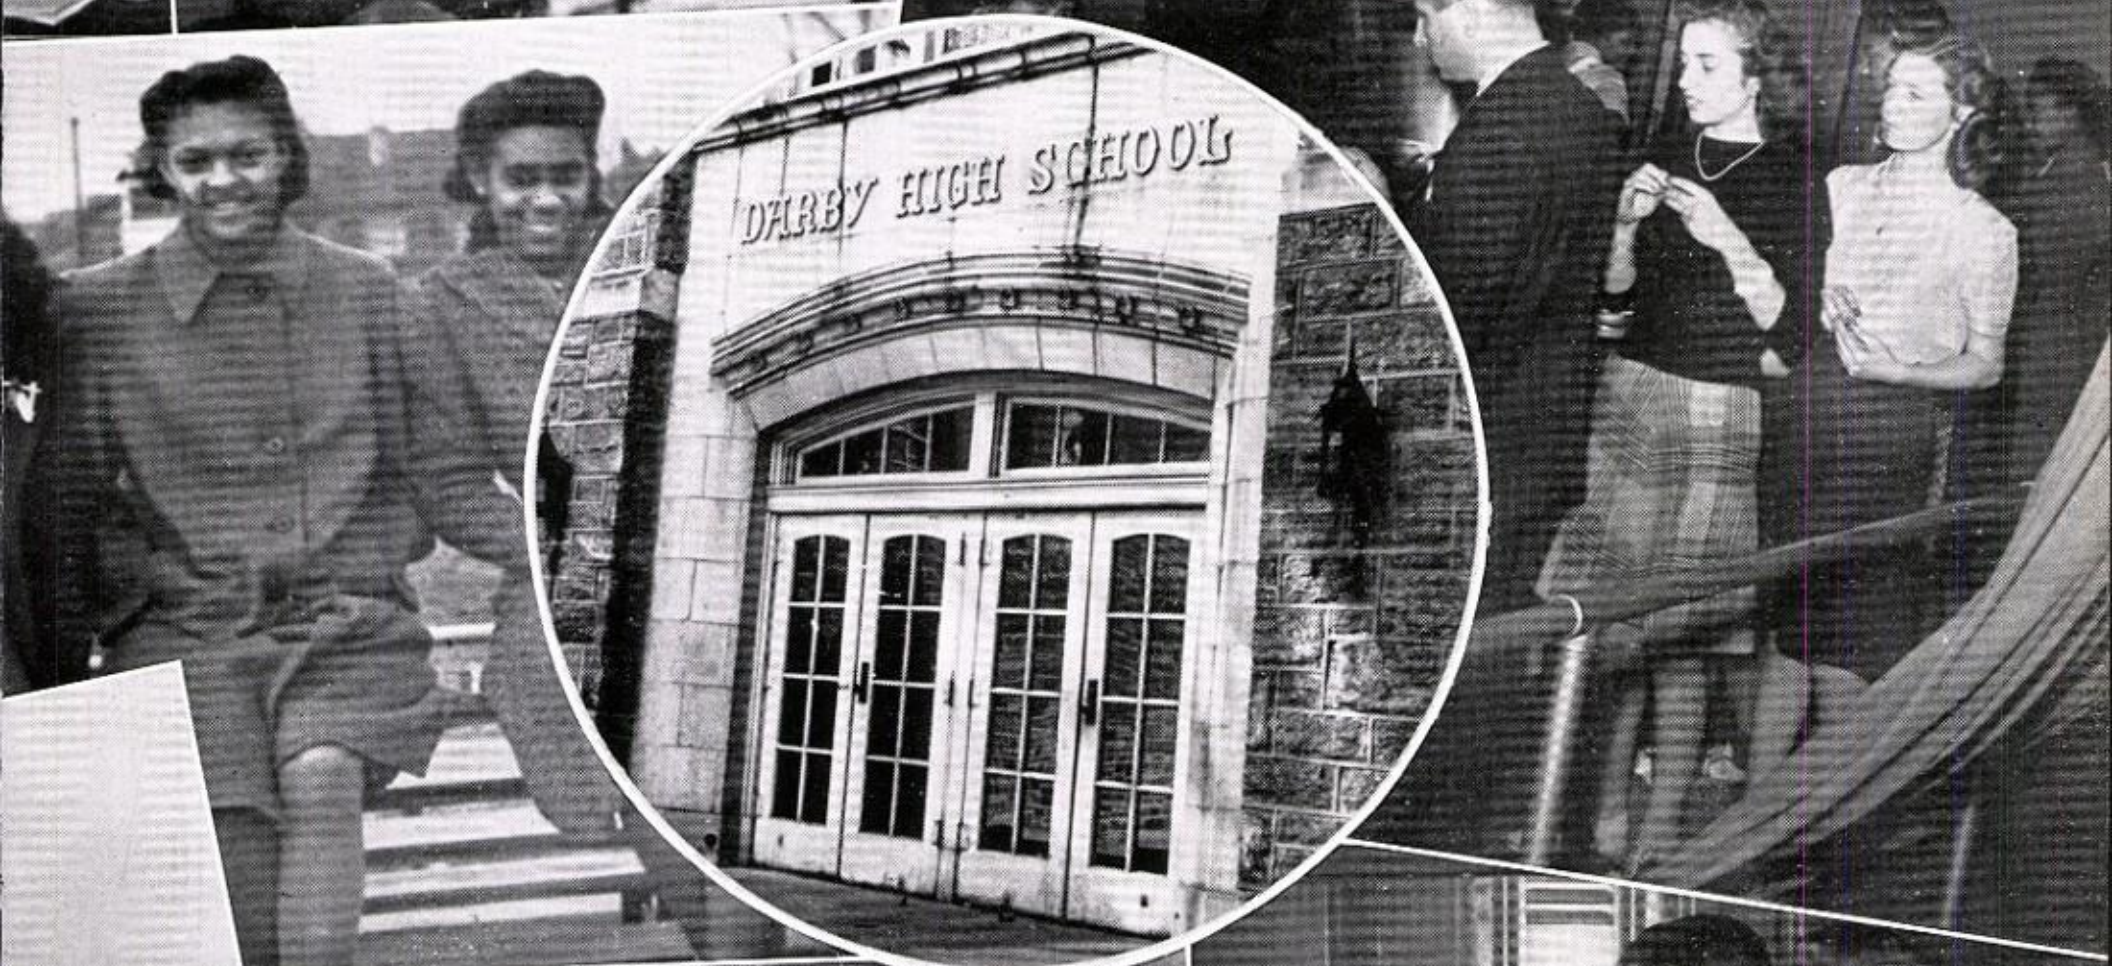

The Secretarial class is responsible for the typing and duplicating of material used by members of the faculty in their classroom instruction.

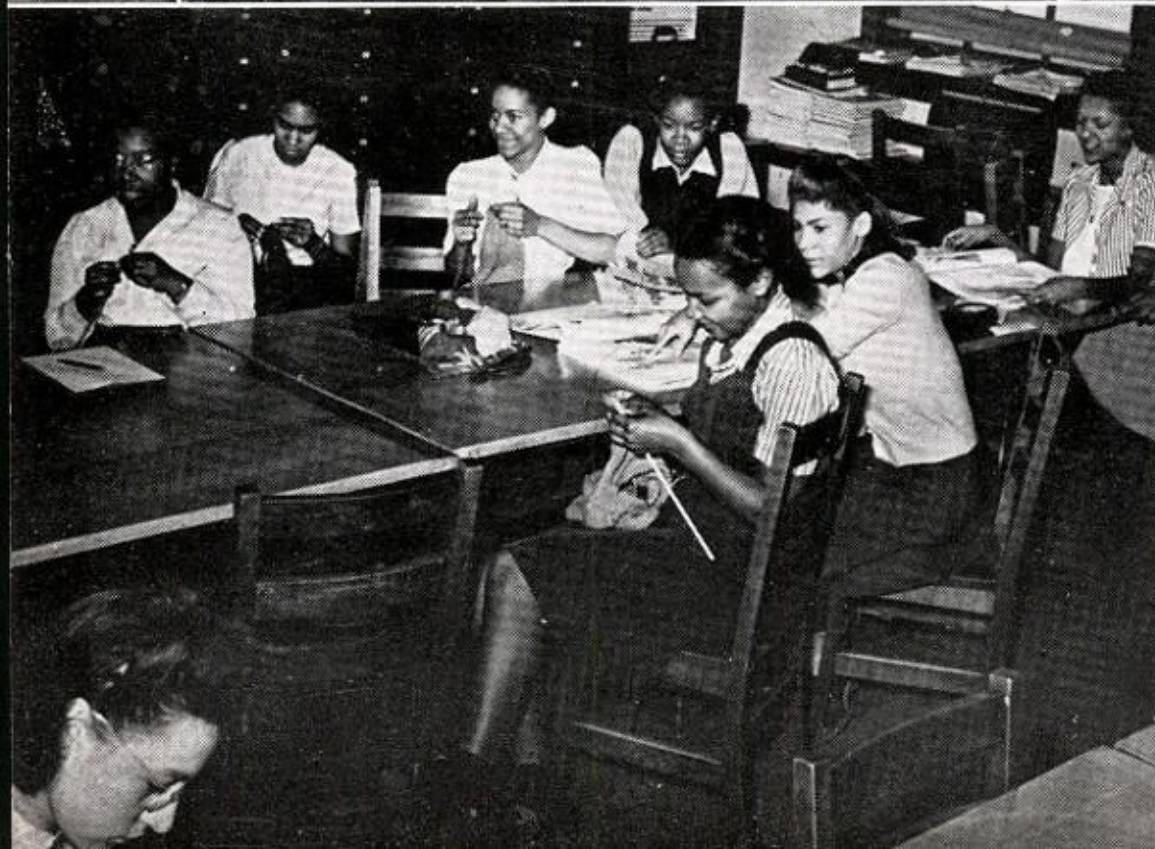

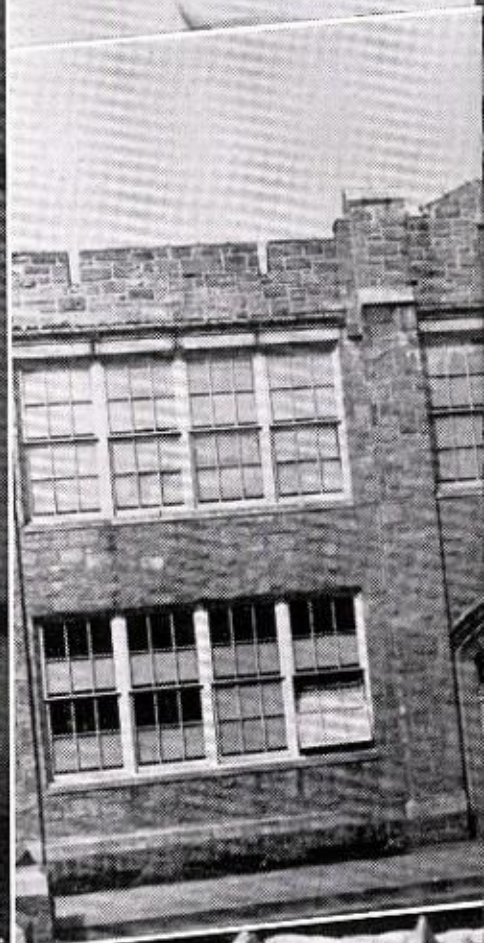

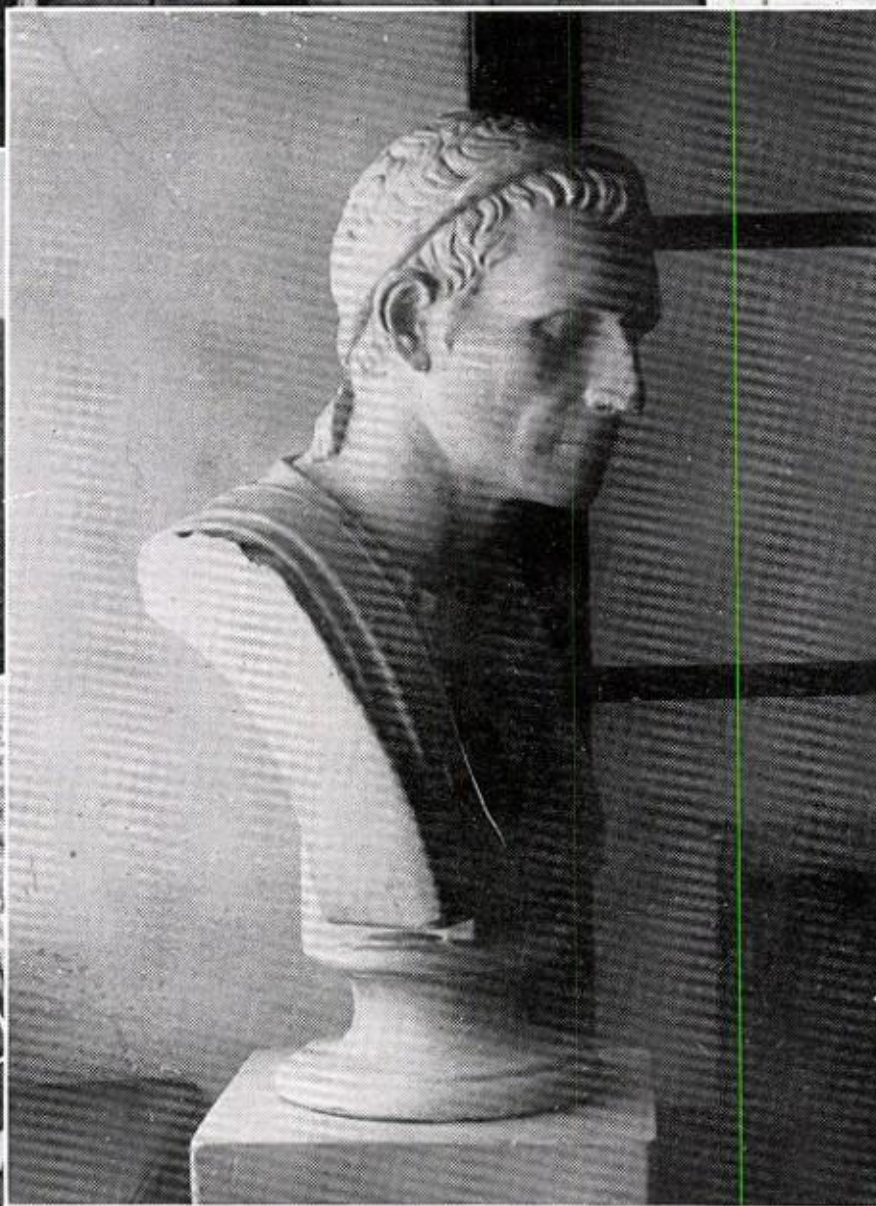

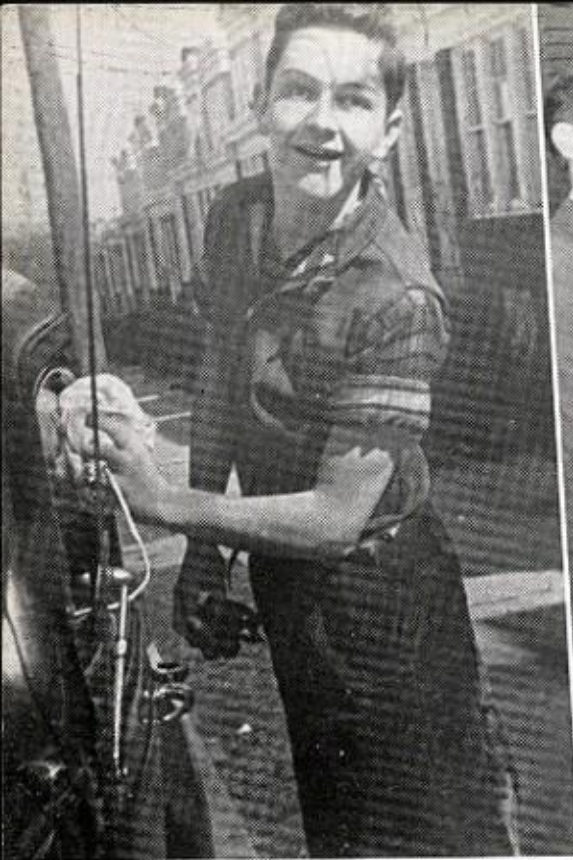

The managing of all school funds — cafeteria, athletic, class and club — is the job of the Bookkeeping section. Their work includes checking deposits, wrapping all money, and transferring it to the school depository.

Thus in Darby we have an opportunity to put into practice the theory learned in the classroom.

United States Army

Dear Rene,

Attention Corporal Rene' Callec
Your enthusiastic and faithful work with the School Board acquainted you with the many phases of the extra-curricular program of our school. It's surprising how much more significant these activities have become. New clubs have been formed to meet the needs not only of Darby but also of the country, and old clubs are working for better civilian morale.

You'll notice such groups as Stitches for Defense, Bundles of Bandages and Aviation. Mr. J. Gilbert, our civics teacher, is helping to carry out Mr. Douthett's plans for community farming and the training of student's for farm work.

We feel that your interest lies in our club activities so here follows a description of them.

Sincerely yours,
Class of 1942

ADVERTISING CLUB

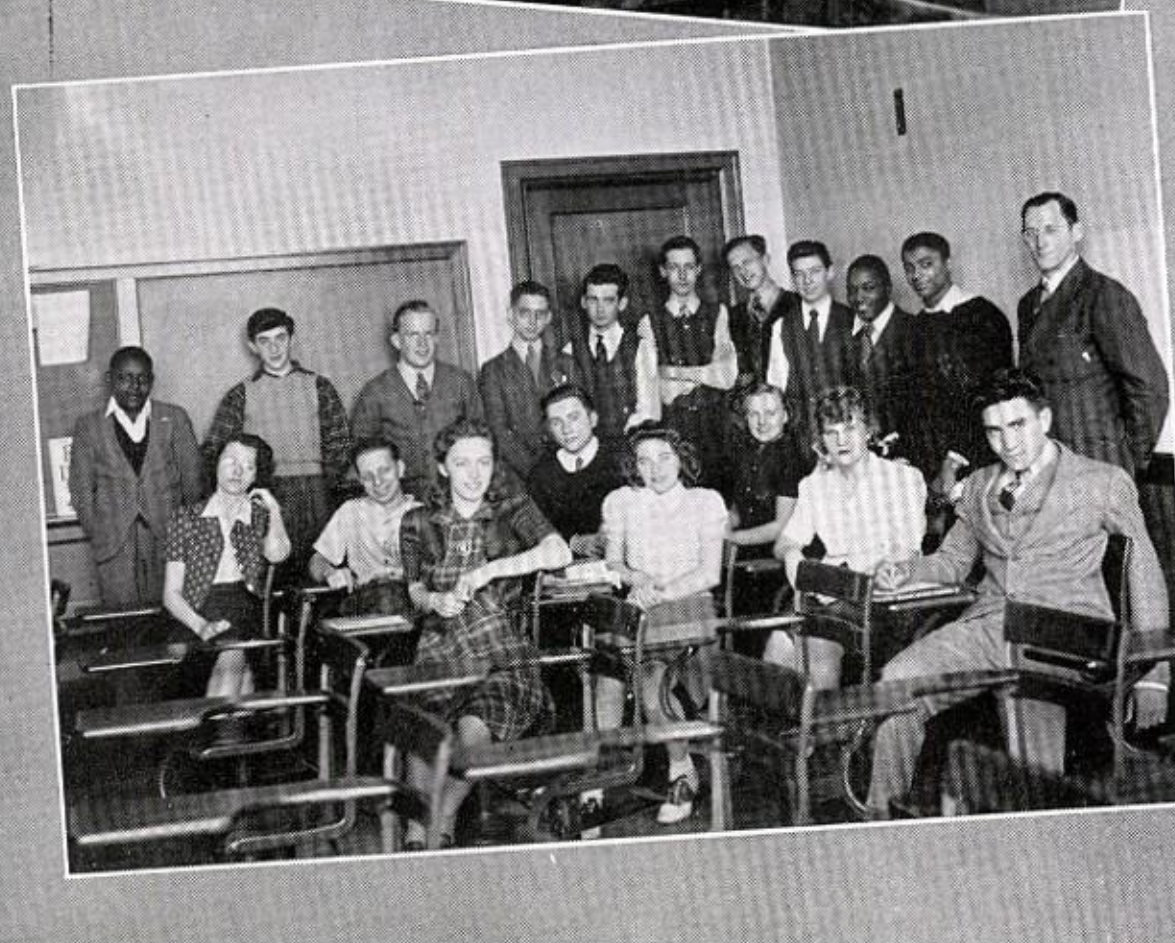

Our Advertising Club endeavors to keep before the public eye all school events which are of interest to all of us in the school and community. By means of posters, they advertise dances, athletic events, Home and School affairs, and boost the sale of Defense Stamps and Bonds. . . . — V for Victory, Knock the Heights out of Clifton, Darby Never Quits, are only a few of the slogans that have helped to bolster the morale of the student body. Mr. Stauffer has charge of this group.

ALGEOM CLUB

This club was formed for those students in the Junior and Senior College Preparatory classes who are interested in the more difficult applications of secondary mathematics, and obtain enjoyment from solving such problems. Miss Label is the club's adviser.

With the special preparation received, its members are better able to cope with the matriculation examinations to our colleges, universities and Service Academies.

AMATEUR MOTION PICTURES

"What To Do In An Air Raid" was the theme of the full-length moving picture planned by this group. The club, working under the direction of Mr. Harter, analyzed the motion picture field in its various phases—photography, script, captions, dialogue, dramatics, make-up, setting, etc.

We prophesy that this club will become of major importance in determining the hobbies, avocations and possibly the vocations of students interested in the work.

AVIATION CLUB

With the government's demand for planes, planes, and more planes, there has arisen the necessity for model airplanes to be used in the training of young pilots in aeronautics. Our Aviation Club has been busy all year, both during club periods and after school, building these models and donating them to the government. Mr. Conlin sponsored this very vital activity until he entered our nation's armed service.

BOOK CLUB

Twelfth grade College Preparatory students who desire to obtain a deeper appreciation and better understanding of the classics read with Miss Merrells during the regular club period. The time thus spent has given them a keener interest in the finest works of literature, and has encouraged the members to do extensive outside reading.

CAMERA CLUB

Click! Another picture is added to the overflowing albums of the Camera Club. Next step is a trip to the dark room, where developing, drying and printing follow in rapid order. Making enlargements, one of the more difficult processes in photography, has become a routine matter under Mr. Schrage's instruction. The recent photographic contest sponsored by this club demonstrated the importance and need for good photography in modern warfare.

BOYS' COOKING CLUB

For one hour each week the boys don chefs' aprons and hats, sift flour and spill milk in an earnest effort to prove that the female's position in the home is a precarious one. Cookies, fudge, and other goodies are relished by these boys after an hour of hard work and suspense. Miss Chittick enjoys this respite from her busy schedule of girls, girls, girls.

KNITTING

The Knitting Club, under the direction of Dr. Hollingsworth, and the Stitches for Defense Club, sponsored by Miss Wynne, are helping to fill the increasing demands of the Red Cross and British War Relief. The materials, obtained from both relief organizations, are made into knitted garments by the girls in the clubs.

PING PONG CLUB

Priority rights permit Seniors only to belong to the ever-popular Ping Pong Club. It has been proved that there are more than six wrong ways to play the game, and so the members try to perfect their skill with the latest methods. Tournaments are scheduled for the weekly club periods, and both Mr. Malandra and Miss Darlington have found no lack of interest on the parts of the members.

MECHANICAL DRAWING

In these times when men are needed in the armed forces, there must be others to take their places. This club aims to teach girls to read blueprints, and attempts to prepare them to take the place in this national emergency that boys ordinarily have held. Mrs. Blew is the adviser.

PLACEMENT SERVICE CLUB

In 1940 a Placement Service Committee composed of teachers and administrators was organized to assist students in locating both in-school and out-of-school employment. Miss Ruth McCrone, chairman of that committee, now sponsors the Placement Service Club, whose members aid in checking and compiling the follow-up records for each of our graduates.

STAGECRAFT CLUB

Mr. Christman and his Stagecraft Club are responsible for the painting, constructing, and setting up of scenery for the various dramatic productions of the school. We Seniors certainly appreciate the expense saved us by this club's willingness to provide the stage set for our Senior Play.

READING CLUB

Reading has never failed to open new fields of adventure and romance. Each one, under the direction of Mrs. Dimmick, reads for his own enjoyment. Then follows an open discussion of the most interesting and enjoyable phases of the best books. Modern fiction and biographies have proved to be the most popular selections of this group.

TENNIS CLUB

The Tennis Club was organized for the purpose of providing exercise and recreation to students interested in this sport.

The rudiments of the game are taught, and when the weather permits, practice is held on the courts of the Athletic Field. In the Spring, tournaments are held to determine the champions.

Miss Harshaw, who is well known in the county as a tennis player, sponsors the Tennis Club.

WEIGHTLIFTING

Sound minds and strong bodies assumed a new importance with the introduction of the Hale America Program. Mr. Gilbert and his boys, through persistent practice during club periods have become proficient in lifting weights over their heads varying from 60 to 230 pounds. These boys should feel a great deal of satisfaction in the knowledge that they have increased their physical power.

BUNDLES OF BANDAGES

To answer the call of the Red Cross, the Bundles of Bandages Club was organized, with Miss Franklin as adviser. Enthusiastic members meet weekly to make sterile bandages which will be used by the Red Cross in the treatment of the wounded.

JUNIOR PLAY CLUB

"Cat O' Nine Tails," a mystery play in three acts was presented by the Class of 1943 on February 25th and 26th before a record breaking crowd. The play was under the supervision of Miss Jean Harshaw and the management of Mr. Herman Solar.

STITCHES FOR DEFENSE

At the outbreak of America's entry into the war, the need was felt for a second knitting club. Our girls immediately volunteered to make socks, scarfs, sweaters, gloves, mittens, neck muffs, and afghans to make more comfortable both refugees and the men in the fighting forces. Miss Wynne offered the necessary instruction for this important organization.

"CRIER CLUB"

As in previous years, the Crier has contained every bit of news which was of interest to the student body as a whole. But their aim this year has been to make it ever bigger — and better. Miss Farmer, sponsor of the club, presented a new arrangement of columns. Headlines are now printed in tiers instead of being typed. A novel note was struck with the publishing of an "April Fool's" issue — brimful of nonsense and originality.

The staff has worked hard to bring you not only the news of the school, but to tickle your funny bone with a humorous column here, a silly cartoon there, and through it all to bring you the spirit of the true newspaper tradition.

DENTAL ASSISTANTS

The girls in the Dental Clinic have had the unique experience of being helpful in a dental clinic, and obtaining first-hand information about dental health and the problems it presents. Miss Onspaugh, school Dental Hygienist, has adopted the plan of having assistants from among the students. There are many who have benefited from the activities of the club, and from the services of Dr. Mahjoubian.

Everyone in the graduating class, has been taught over and over again during our school years the value of strong and healthy teeth. This thought is worth while remembering throughout our entire life.

It will be to the advantage of all students if we will remember that we actually are going out to face the world with our teeth. Poor teeth result in ill health and an unattractive appearance. To be able to face the future with sparkling good teeth is a personal achievement.

LIBRARY ASSISTANTS

The basic training of all good librarians is practical experience. With this in mind, Miss Garner sponsors annually a Library Assistants group. In this club we find girls interested in library work, who are willing to spend time before school, after school, and during the school day serving as assistant librarians.

Their work consists of checking books in and out, making interior displays such as posters, arranging books in their proper order, and generally making the Library a more enjoyable place in which to work and read.

ORCHESTRA

1941-1942 has been a banner year for the orchestra. By combining popular and classical music they have presented programs which have delighted the entire student body. The orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Harter, with its various soloists has traveled to Aldan, Yeadon and Folcroft and presented a variety of programs to these schools. They have also served in the interests of national defense by playing at the Broad Street Armory, where gifts were presented to the boys in the service.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council is a representative body of the school. Patterned after the Senate of our United States Congress, every homeroom has equal representation. The experience of student participation in school government, rather than complete faculty domination, prepares us for living in a true democracy.

The Student Council has sponsored many afternoon and evening dances, has lent financial support to student activities, and played a large part in the maintenance of student morale. We have sent delegates to the three major Student Council Conferences held this year at Yeadon, Media, and West Chester.

United States Marines.

Dear Paul,

Attention Lieutenant A Paul Bretherick

We don't know whether you're in Montezuma or Tripoli. But we want you to know of past and present developments in the athletic program of the school. We know that sports were your particular interest back in 1934 to 1936. You'll be disappointed to hear that Golf no longer is a major sport after your team brought us the county championship for two successive years.

The basketball team had to play every game away. It seems that the other schools found our gym a little too confining. However, there's still hope for a new one. Incidentally, the boys did right well for themselves. Reaching the finals of the Juwanis Tournament is really something to tell the Marines about.

Mr. Stauffer has resigned as track coach. We're going to miss his patient and capable handling of the boys. Mr. Conlin's no longer here. His induction into the Army took place just this past April.

Well, Paul, we hope that the real Dorby High spirit of biting the line hard will stay with us for the big job ahead.

Sincerely yours,
Class of 1942.

THE BAND

In more ways than one our band this year has been a champion. It has achieved more in the way of producing good music, building up student and community morale, than bands of years past.

This year the members of the band were honored by being asked to play at the Spring meeting of the Delaware County Teachers' Association. Twice during the school year they presented concerts, the funds raised being used to buy equipment for Civilian Defense.

The end of this term marks the third year of grand showmanship by the girls in the Color Guards and Drum Majors Corps.

HOCKEY 1941

Hitting the line hard is an old Darby custom with which our Hockey team is well acquainted. For the second successive year the girls on the team have pulled together for a victorious season, and they are justly proud of that record!

Such a successful season has much more behind it than the ordinary sports' fan recognizes. A winning team must be composed of cooperative, enthusiastic girls such as ours. They must be willing to spend long hours training and practice, giving up many of their after-school hours. They must adhere to their training rules, in order to keep fit to withstand the hours of practice, and be at their best for their games.

Our Hockey team met all of the qualifications demanded of a good athletic team, and proved to our opponents by winning every game, that Darby plays a hard, fair game.

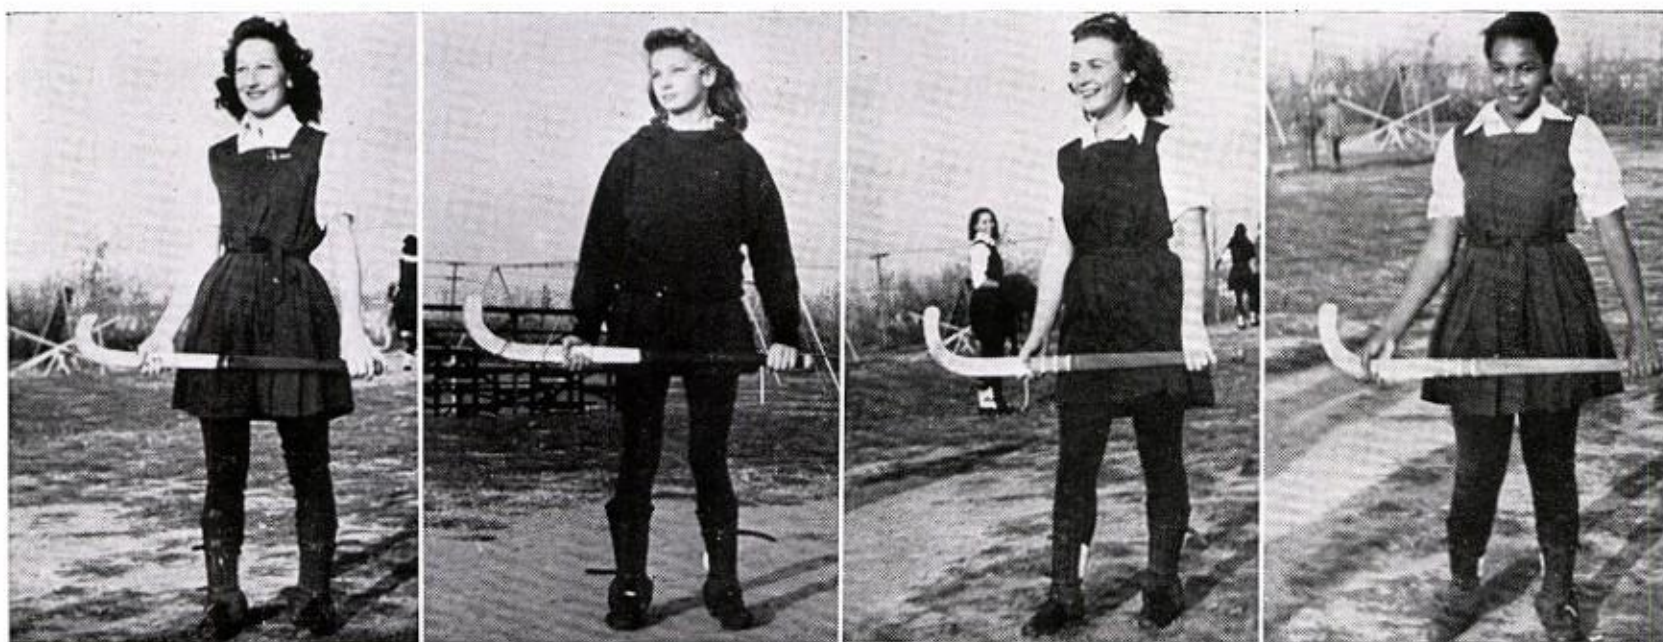

1. What's the score, girls?
2. Expectantly they wait.

After an undefeated hockey season, our girls began intensive training for their other major sport, basketball. The long hours of practice and careful training proved their worth when the girls went out to win six out of nine games. This record represents not only fine playing but cooperation and good sportsmanship on the part of every girl on the team. The girls played on our gym floor and on the floors of their opponents.
